Women's Woes.

Norway Women are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. P. Walker, Cottage St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and must acknowledge that I have been greatly benefited. While my case was in no way serious, I was in misery all the time. The symptoms pointed to a severe kidney disorder. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a box from Stone's drug store. In a short time after commencing their use, I felt much better and as I continued taking them, I steadily improved. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as an excellent remedy for kidney disease."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Good-bye Winter.

It's good-bye winter bleak and cold
Your dreary reign is o'er;
You cannot here abide
We've got a job in store.

Yet mingled in the flight we hear
The opening of the spring.
And the new birds come to sing
Which comes to every thing.

We hear the brook, let's running
From mountain to the plain.
And the ripples seem to murmur,
"Spring is with us once again."

The birds with sweetest carol,
Mingle in the happy hour,
With sunshine, blossoms, everywhere,
They bring to us a prayer.

CHARLES C. LOWELL.
In Summertime.
Written for the Advertiser.

I know a place where fragrant pine trees wave
Their plumed tops to feathered songsters,
High,
Where strains unchecked, and cadence of the breeze,
Blend in harmonious song to earth and sky,
Where the purple thistle, and wild orchid bloom,
Grace earth, and air with beauty's fragrance rare.

Where, in the happy hour,
With sunshine, blossoms, everywhere,
They bring to us a prayer.

And, gentle as the whisper of a mother's
I walked along the soft, south breeze,
I know,
Fanned away are the remnants of despair,
The chilling breath of ice and frost and snow,
Heaven, in good time gives back our own again,
Though taken for awhile our trust to prove,
So, again, with sunny days, is seen,
Oh, so, and sweet the music of the air,
Come the high pulse-beats of our earth and sky,
And warbler's throats attune to praise and prayer,
Bless dreamer, or teller as he wanders by.

In fact Frank Kimball, the druggist, has a certain hair restorer called Parisian Sage which costs only 50 cents a large bottle which is guaranteed to cure dandruff in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is the discovery of an eminent student, scientist and specialist, and is made in this country only by the Groux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Parisian Sage is a most pleasant, daintily perfumed hair dressing, and besides curing dandruff, your druggist will return your money if it fails to stop falling hair or itching of the scalp.

It will make hair grow, and women who desire soft, beautiful and luxuriant hair can have it in two weeks by using this famous, quick acting preparation. It is not sticky or greasy.

Have a competent veterinarian examine the teeth of your horse at regular intervals as a little attention occasionally given, will prevent great suffering which usually results in his becoming a "side reiner" or puller.

Peary in College.

Judge Wells of Somersworth, N. H., was a college-mate of Commander Peary at Bowdoin and he was interestingly told of his recollections of the great explorer in the history of the world. A quiet, thoughtful young fellow was Peary, genial but not demonstrative. There appeared to be nothing out of the ordinary about him in those days. He was studious and made a good record in his college work.

He participated in athletics more or less, but gave no indication then of that wonderful physical stamina which bore him unflinchingly so many miles over the frozen sea. He was No. 2 on the class crew which won a cup at the class races one year. F. H. Hargraves, of West Buxton, was captain and bow-oar of that crew, which is now preserved to fame by the greatness of its No. 2 oar.

Peary was a member of the sophomore football team but out of that game he got no training for his athletic experiences, for they played in those days with a round rubber ball and the sophomores were more intent on kicking the freshmen's shins than in putting the ball between the goal posts.

At the Bowdoin semi-annual field day, June 5, 1875, Peary entered for the running jump, but was defeated, by one foot and two inches, by Mitchell, who cleared sixteen feet and since the Peary did win in the baseball throwing event against three others. He threw the ball 316 feet. It is not in evidence in any of the old publications that Peary ever took much of any interest in baseball.

From all of which appears that college boys who don't have their names in black type and their pictures on the front pages of the papers for work on the diamond or gridiron need not despair of achieving distinction in later life. And further, it is once again seen that nobody in the world can predict any man's future from what he is in his college days.

HARBOR.

Mrs. A. W. McKee is on the sick list. Agnes Davis is visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bemis were in Bridgton recently.

Will Thompson came home from the hospital Saturday.

Circle will be entertained the 18th by Mrs. Bemis and Mrs. Rose.

Knight and Benson have sold their oxen to J. Howe and a yoke of steers to A. E. Bemis.

Miss Smith closed school here Friday with exercises and recitations by the children. This has been a successful term and she expects to return for the spring term.

Rev. D. B. Holt the district superintendent preached at the church Friday night and held quarterly conference. The ladies of the circle sold ice cream before the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Howe are having a sick time. Mr. Howe is confined in bed with muscular rheumatism and Mrs. Howe has been sick in bed since the first of November and is not able to sit up at this writing.

Dr. Pyrum Perry of Fitch street attended the circle last week. This seems a remarkable fact when we realize that she will celebrate her 90th birthday this month and will spend this birthday with her friend in Portland as she has done several years. She travels alone. When the most of us reach the age of 90 we shall not think we can leave home to celebrate it. Dr. Perry does not look a day over sixty.

March 9 the men's supper came off and the men did justice to themselves both in supper and entertainment. The receipts of the evening were $21. A large company was present and after the supper listened to the following program:

Indigestion.

Relief in Five Minutes and Permanent Cure or Money Back.
When Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Norway Drug Store, states that he has a remedy that is guaranteed to cure any man or woman who suffers from food fermentation which causes belching, sour stomach, gas eructations, heartburn, and that feeling of fullness in the abdomen or money back what are the poor stomach sufferers in Norway and vicinity going to do about it?

The name of this most remarkable stomach prescription is Mi-o-na. Most people call it them Mi-o-na stomach tab. Lets because they know that there is no remedy so good for indigestion or stomach disorders. Here is one opinion:

"I have been troubled with indigestion for more than a year. I bought one box of Mi-o-na and it cured me. Now I would not be without a box in the house for $50.00. It saves a lot of doctor bills when you can be cured for 50 cents."

You can use my name if you want to. -Arthur Sederquest, 6 Nichols St., Wakefield, Mass. Nov. 7, 1909.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets cost 50 cents a box at druggists everywhere and at Norway Drug Store.

A Tribute.

Culpeper, Va., March 18, 1910.
F. W. Sanborn, Esq., Editor.
I cannot tell you how sorry and shocked I was to hear of the death of Isaiah McAllister of East Stoneham. It took the news several days to reach me or I should, certainly have come on to pay the noble man my last respects.

Mr. McAllister was not far from 85 years old, and while I had known him for about ten years, it seemed to me often that I had known him all my life. I have often made two trips to Stoneham a year and my greatest pleasure was in looking forward to the companionship of this old gentleman. He was so sincere, so loyal that being with him was a benefit to me, as I am sure it was to everyone else who were fortunate enough to have known him.

I will miss him very much indeed in years to come, but I am thankful to have known him and his memory will always be a pleasant part of my life.

My sympathy goes out to his sons and grandchildren in their great loss, but I am sure they all will realize some consolation that their father and grandfather lived a long, useful and noble life, and has now gone to his full and just reward. Respectfully yours,

LESTER JONES.

BRYANT'S POND.

A Comparison.

A comparison of the first printed report of Woodstock in 1880 with our last annual report makes interesting reading and shows that our town has taken some long strides since that date. The total valuation in 1880 was $107,011 against $271,000, an increase of over $160,000; rate per cent, .03. Town debt, $10,816.65 against the present balance in favor of town of $2,723.35. Ten paupers were supported by the town on the farm and 20 others off the farm; cash in the treasury $13.81 against $2,008.51 in 1900. This comparison surely make every true citizen feel better satisfied with this good old town in which we live.

Years ago, to be a citizen of Woodstock was considered a bad recommendation by many of the citizens of other towns. There was much poverty in town. Many of the farms were mortgaged and the financial standing was anything but satisfactory. Slowly but surely conditions have bettered, the old town has forged ahead, and today, although far from being a wealthy town it is safe to say there are few if any towns where the people are more generally prosperous and progressive than Woodstock.

Although the population has declined during the last 40 years in common with most of the rural towns of Maine, the wealth of the town has steadily increased, the town gaining in valuation since 1900 nearly $70,000 and the number of polls shows that the decline in population since 1900 has not been very marked, indeed it would not be surprising if the census showed we were about holding our own. Woodstock is one of the best fruit raising towns of Oxford county, the south part of the town being especially adapted to this industry.

Bryant Pond village, the business center of the town, although receiving a severe setback by fire, is improving and steadily building up year by year. The location is one of the best in the county, being the very center of Oxford county and the natural trade center of a considerable area.

The summer business is increasing year by year, new cottages being erected almost every season. The town badly needs a hotel but we feel very sure this need will be supplied before very long.

All in all we are very glad we live in Woodstock and see no reason why the town should not grow and prosper.

The progress of a town depends on its citizens. If petty jealousies, narrowness, the pulling apart of different sections of the town come in the progress will be slow if indeed. But if the citizens work together for the good of the whole town there is no end to the good works which may be accomplished. Let the farmers remember that the village is the town's business center, that whatever helps the village helps the whole town, and let the village people remember that the prosperity of the village is dependent largely upon the prosperity of the farmers and other sections of the town.

Let us all remember from the Gore to Curtis Hill, from Shabon pond to Bryant Pond that we are all citizens of the same old town and by working together can make Woodstock the very finest town in this grand old State of Maine. So here's three cheers for Bryant Pond and the good old town of Woodstock.

What She Says of Onions.

Every housewife understands that onions are a kind of all-around good medicine, without knowing why. She knows that a solid red onion eaten at bedtime will, by the next morning, break the severest cold.

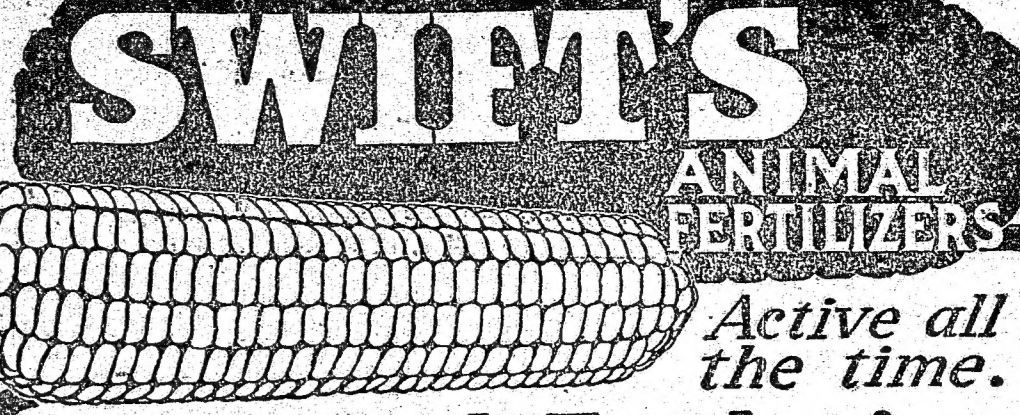

She also knows that onions make a good plaster to remove inflammation and hoarseness, but she does not know why.

If any one would take an onion and wash it so as to scald all the juice in it, it would have a most remarkable smothering substance that would quiet the most nervous person.

The strength of this substance inhaled for a few minutes will dull the sense of smell and quiet the nerves until sleep is produced from sheer exhaustion.

This all comes from one property possessed by the onion, and that is a form of opium.

If you are to have the Three-Threes-a-Week, World, and Small Advertiser send $2.20. It pays for a year for both.

SWIFT'S ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

Active all the time.

Too Much Emphasis

cannot be laid upon the fact that the fertilizer nearest to nature, or nature's manure, will prove the most reliable and profitable. That is why Swift's Fertilizers are so much in demand—so satisfactory. They are crop producers as well as soil builders. They leave the soil in excellent condition for later use after first crops have been removed.

For this reason they are active all the time. Be sure you use them.

Swift—Superior—Sure

"It gives me great pleasure to state that I raised one of the finest crops of corn on Swift's Fertilizer this season ever produced on World's End Farm. The yield was more than 50 bushels shelled corn per acre."

"Have used these fertilizers to my entire satisfaction the past ten years, and will use them extensively this coming season." (Signed) C. R. Goodhue, Supt., World's End Farm, Hingham, Mass.

"I have conducted an experiment with over 60 varieties of potatoes to ascertain the best yielder, Swift's Superior Fertilizer has given glorious results in spite of the driest season known in the century. Yield 450 bushels per acre of handsome salable potatoes. After many years' trial with different kinds, your fertilizer gives me the best results, and it conserves moisture even in periods of drought." (Signed) Rev. J. R. Lawrence, Kearnan, Mass.

One of the vital demands upon you is to enrich the soil and maintain its fertility. To do this economically and successfully simply insist upon using Swift's Animal Fertilizers. They cost no more than others, and are Swift's Superior, sure. See local agent or write us. Free Pocket Memo Booklet containing valuable crop information on application.

Last Sunday was observed as Palm Sunday at the Universalist church with special sermon and music, and the evening service was given to the same subject. There was a large attendance in the morning, but in the evening the attendances of rain with a wet slippery condition in the streets made the attendance comparatively small. ### SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Isaac W. Andrews.

Isaac W. Andrews died of grippe, at his home in South Woodstock, Friday morning at about 5 o'clock, March 15.

Mr. Andrews was born in South Woodstock 77 years ago, and had always lived there. He was the head of the firm of I. W. Andrews & Sons, manufacturers of caskets, and engaged in the undertaking business. He had been in this business many years, from boyhood and was one of the few men who are a blessing to their native town by doing a successful business at home all the days of his life, and leaving the business in the good hands of his sons, to be continued. Isaac W. Andrews' body was carried on the business before him, and he was well content to follow the business his father did. Their mill was first built in 1828.

He was not only an enterprising and successful business man, but he was a cheerful and happy man—one who was a pleasant companion, one who enjoyed his vacations and his fishing trips. For more than thirty years he annually or oftener, visited the Rangley lakes, and shared his catches with his friends.

He was the son of Ziba and Thankful Andrews, and was educated in the common schools of Woodstock. He was a strong Republican, though he never held public office. He belonged to no societies or clubs. His religious creed was peace and good will to all men.

Fifty years ago he married Elvira W. Bryant. At the time of his death she was very low and not expected to survive her husband but a short time. His two sons, Frank R. Andrews and Alvin W. Andrews, have been associated in business with him. A daughter, Mrs. A. J. Curtis died in Dorchester, Mass., fourteen years ago. Mr. Andrews was one of a family of nine brothers and sisters.

The funeral was from his residence, Sunday, March 20, at 1 o'clock. Rev. Seth Benson and Elder Ford were the attending clergymen.

He was a kind friend and neighbor and will be greatly missed. He leaves a wife whose care and devotion was untiring during his long illness, a brother and sister and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at one o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. H. H. Richardson officiating. The male quartette sang "Guard and Guide Me" and "Farewell." The flowers were very beautiful, among the floral pieces being a pillow inscribed with the word "Farewell," a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Elliott, pieces from the nieces and nephews, from Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lord and also from the Ladies' circle. Interment was six miles away in a private cemetery, where the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, called in their early manhood, rest side by side.

John Geary, the oldest citizen of Parsonsfield, succumbed to pneumonia, March 17th. It was said of him by all near neighbors that he never was heard to speak ill of anyone. Services conducted by Rev. H. H. Richardson, were held in the M. E. church, at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon. The church choir sang "Sweetly Resting," "Shall Know Him" and "Rest Home." Interment in Riverside cemetery.

$1,000,000 TO FIGHT A WORM!

A million dollars has been contributed by John D. Rockefeller for the extermination of the Hook-Worm.

Scientists have now proven that the pale, anemic condition and listless condition of hundreds of thousands of Southern people is caused by an intestinal worm.

The Hook-Worm is only one of fifty species of Worms that are known to infect the human intestines. Many cases of stomach troubles, blood impoverishment and general debility and weakness are caused by Worms.

Dr. John F. True of Auburn, Me., was fifty years in advance of his time. He recognized this in 1881 and gave to the world Dr. True's Elixir, which positively expels Worms.

Whenever a laxative is needed, Dr. True's Elixir should be taken. It is not only the Best Tonic Laxative ever devised, but it absolutely expels all animal life (worms) from the system. Worms cannot exist where Dr. True's Elixir is taken.

Instead of pills, syrups, or cathartic tablets, why not take Dr. True's Elixir? It fulfills everything that is asked of a laxative and also insures the expulsion from your system of all pernicious animal life, if any exists there.

Children, especially, are frequently sickly, peevish and fretful from no other cause than worms. Dr. True's Elixir makes them healthy, strong and well.

Many a man finds himself listless and without energy; does not know what is the matter with him. Cannot seem to put any force into the day's work; has no vim. A few days' treatment with Dr. True's Elixir will correct these conditions.

Tailored Suits for Spring.

As spring approaches, the new tailored suit, usually the "rotting suit," is of first consideration. Whatever else one may need or desire, one must have this suit, and women have gradually developed a conviction that it is the early of the spring tailored suit. It is solid comfort to have a trim, fresh, lightweight suit in readiness when the first warm days arrive and the winter clothes and furs become, of a sudden, burdensome. Women sigh for the spring raincoat and regret that it was not ordered weeks before. Then, when the suit does at last come home from the tailors, it is almost summer and lines and tussles begin to seem more interesting than woollens.

The really wise thing to do is to order the new spring suit quite early. Information regarding styles is not needed so much regarding the spring suits as in other clothes, and a chance is worth taking. The tailors are often able to make a fair guess as to the conservative styles, and the more severe the first suit is the better, provided always that its cut is good and its material and color modish. There is another item in this early order matter which is worth consideration where one must count the dollars. Even the best of the fashionable tailors, in order to bridge over the gap between winter and summer, are willing to make substantial concessions in price upon orders placed early.

If spring wear is the chief consideration, a cool climate is to make homespun and tweed endurable, a slightly rough material is probably a wise choice. The early showing of suitings indicates a strong feeling for lightweight and light colored versions of the rough, loose, sporty stuffs so popular last season; and all the prettiest things, so far, are in these materials. Smoother, lighter woollens may come along later, but it seems safe to assume that the rougher stuffs will be in good style throughout the season. Certainly they are attractive enough to justify a choice. Many light, or comparatively light colorings are being shown, supplying a welcome change from the unusual somber lines of the winter season.

The light-colored tweeds and homespun and kidder weaves are very pretty. Moreover, they are of mixed effects, which do not soil easily and are serviceable, despite their light color. Many women will not take up the light color, but will cling to the sober dark blue or black, as usual, and it is always a very safe investment, provided it is a yank and not of a vivid or purplish tone. This color is almost universally becoming, and it is the coolest of dark colors.

Some delightful lighter blues, or soft dull silvery shades mixed with white, are among the homespun and tweeds, and these same tones appear, too, in the loose-woven rough diagonals and in the smart stuff of the same rough surface order, with the weave suggesting the old-time basket weaving. Corresponding shades and weaves of rose, mauve, blue, gold and lime-green are on the counters, and these have a fresh spring-like look. They are charming when made up with the utmost severity.

The coats this season are shortened, though not to an extreme degree. The low cut collar is retained, and the coats are but little cut away, if at all. In the matter of buttoning, there is a variety even among the severest tailor modes, the number of buttons depending chiefly upon the depth to which the shawl or notched collar runs down. Skirts are fitted smoothly, but more often of the flared effect is introduced toward the bottom or down the full length of the front and back. The fluted stitched front panel or box plait, running down to meet a group of plaits below the knees and associated with plain sides and a full length box plait back or inverted plait back, is very frequently seen on gored models. There are yoke skirts, too, but one sees less of them in the severe tailor modes since the coats are shorter.

The arrangement of pockets is interesting, and it is on such details as this that the clever tailor finds originality, even for his most conservative models. More extreme lines have been followed in many of the Russian tailored costumes, the number of buttons depending chiefly upon the depth to which the shawl or notched collar runs down. Skirts are fitted smoothly, but more often of the flared effect is introduced toward the bottom or down the full length of the front and back. The fluted stitched front panel or box plait, running down to meet a group of plaits below the knees and associated with plain sides and a full length box plait back or inverted plait back, is very frequently seen on gored models. There are yoke skirts, too, but one sees less of them in the severe tailor modes since the coats are shorter.

"We are making Russian coats and shall make more of them. In fact, I believe we shall all be tired of them by the time summer is well begun, but I advise leaving the Russian lines for lines and tussles that you will not want to wear in the fall and for dressy, soft stuffs that will stand artistic fullness and trimming."

"The Russian coat, severe and simple, is trying to take the average figure. It is essentially youthful, and it is bound to be a passing fad much overdone. Have your general utility tailored suit severe and conventional, with just the maturing details of this season's product."

"Then you can wear it for spring and probably lay it aside for midsummer, and it will be proper for the winter, when you put your summer lines aside and come back to town." [Press and Times.]

The Tinting of Foods.

Coloring Matter Applied to Meet Tastes in Shades of Vanillas.

The impressions which the public have in regard to the color of food are interesting, but their instinct in this matter may easily be deceived by modern tricks. For some not quite clear reason there are many people who look upon the brown egg as necessarily a new laid one, and hence a fair demand for brown eggs has arisen, which is easily met, not by the honest brown egg, but the
